BEAUTIFUL SERVICE HELD IN THE MEMORIAL HALL

The Memorial Service arranged by the Strathmore Branch of the Canadian Legion in honor of their late Comrade, Douglas French, R.F.C., was a high tribute to the genuine worth, untiring endeavor in the work he championed, and the deep inspiration he brought among those with whom he worked to attain to the best or "reach out to the stars". The service was beautiful in its simplicity.

The Hall had been artistically decorated with Autumn leaves, asters, golden glow and sweet peas in profusion. The brilliant red of the poppies added a perfect touch of color against the background of green of the stage curtains.

Union Ladies and Canadian anglers, for those honor the deceased gave a life, were arranged over the pulpit desk, and on the side wall a photo of the late Mr. French was surrounded with a wreath of poppies placed on black cloth. The decorating was the work of a joint committee of the Canadian Legion and I. O. O. F.

The service was conducted jointly by Revs. T. B. Winter and J. N. Wilkinson. A choir composed of members from the choirs of the two churches with Miss Florence Garrett as pianist, rendered very valuable assistance with the beautiful hymns, old-time favorites that grow more impressive as each occasion renders them a little more a part of our individual experience.

Mr. C. A. Lyttel rendered the solo "Vale" in a manner exceedingly sympathetic and beautiful. The silver star which was evident on all sides was tribute to the singing.

The solo, "Open the Gates of the Valley," which is more of the type of the conquering hero, was also most sympathetically sung by Mr. O. H. Patrick, who was in excellent voice. The sermon delivered by Rev. T. B. Winter was a high tribute to the ability, steadfastness in the cause of right, and the high aspiration of these late comrades.

Mr. Winter based his sermon on the text: "For now we see through a glass darkly—but then face to face." Rev. Winter spoke of the Hall, in which we were meeting, and said that Mr. French was the prime mover and guiding worker in the difficult task of "seeing it through". It is a worthy monument to leave, and in no other town in Alberta of equal size, is there a Memorial Hall so beautiful or so well-equipped as the Canadian Legion Memorial Hall.

Mr. Winter spoke of the inevitable cheerfulness of their late Comrade, even though suffering extreme pain and very ill health; of his devotion to duty in the R.F.C. and always his high aim in any undertaking.

Mr. Winter also paid a tribute to Mr. French, in that she was a student.

FELL FIVE STORIES AND LIVES TO TELL STORIES.
SANTA FE CO. Col. J. H. How's man who fell from a fifth-story window, struck on the concrete side walk below and was only able to write home about it. He is George Colwell, a glass-fitter of 678 West Twenty-seventh street; he was putting a pane of glass in place on the fifth floor of a building at 219 South Pioneer street, yesterday when he lost his balance and fell. He received a broken pelvis bone and possibly a broken eighth rib—nothing more, and was removed from the Georgia street receiving hospital to the Santa Fe hospital, where he is now recovering.

Strathmore Receives Big Electric Rate Reduction

Monday and Tuesday Mayor Shrimpton could be seen prancing around with a smile that would not come off, which now turns out to be the result of an interview that he had with the representatives of the Calgary Power company, who were in town, led by the redoubtable Jack Allen. R. A. Brown and Jack Allen have been holding out hopes of a reduction, but when the Mayor got the opportunity to exercise his hypnotic powers upon the head officers, there was a nothing to it but surrender, which they did most graciously, and Strathmore will soon have the following rates in effect: Service charge $1.00 per month for residential purposes, and for the first thirty kilowatt hours, 10c per k.w.h. This means a splendid reduction, and it surely will follow that a larger number of consumers will be added to the list, and is a real boon to Strathmore ratepayers.

A Flying Exhibition at Calgary Sat'dy

The Calgary Aero Club, with the cooperation of The Great Western Airways is holding Calgary's first exhibition of flying on Saturday, September 29th, at 2 p.m. Stunt formation flying, air polo, parachute jumping and aerobics golf are among the events on the program.

The meet will be held on the temporary flying field just off the Banff coach road in S. W. Calgary.

This event will be replete with interest and thrills. No one who is at all interested in flying should miss it.

New Roman Catholic Church Opened At Hussar

At Hussar on Sunday, September 23rd, His Lordship, Bishop Kidd, of Calgary, assisted by Rev. N. Anderson and Rev. P. Aremant, opened with blessing ceremony the new Roman Catholic Church dedicated to St. Ann.

The parish choir was assisted by the sisters of St. Joseph School, Cunty, for the occasion.

The large congregation present listened with rapt attention to the spoken address of Bishop Kidd.

His Lordship pointed out that the Church is a house of God, dedicated solely and exclusively to His service, where prayer and sacrifice will be offered up to Him.

The Jews, he said, were commanded by God to build a temple where sacrifices should be offered up, and minute details were given as to its construction. The sacrifice of the Old Law are superseded by the great sacrifice of the new. The Mass offered up by the priest as commanded by our Divine Lord, when at the last supper He changed bread and wine into His body and blood, and said to His apostles: "Do this for a commemoration of me."

In this sacred edifice, the word of God would be preached and the sacraments administered. Here the child would be brought to be regenerated by the water of baptism. Here their sins would be forgiven at the Sacred tribunal of mercy. Here they would receive the Blessed Eucharist to strengthen and enliven their minds and souls. Here they would receive the gifts of The Holy Ghost in confirmation.

They would come here to receive blessings in marriage, and when they departed from life and their souls were being judged, the body would be brought here, and friends would gather to assist at Mass for their eternal rest.

The Lordship reminded his hearers of his duty of thanking God for all His gifts, and especially to show their appreciation of their new church by always keeping it properly ornamented and decorated.

The church is constructed of wood with stucco finish. It will seat two hundred and fifty people, and was built by Mr. Victor Despins, of Calgary.

The Olde Englishe Faire

Wednesday, September 19th, was a red letter day for the Better Babies of Strathmore. Prize winners among them were: Under six months, first, Vendoline Two, second, Mrs. McLean's baby; six to twelve months, first, Glen Allison; second, Phyllis Dunn; twelve months to two years, first, Don McLean; second, Mrs. McFarland's baby; third, Billy Patterson.

The theme of the Englishe Faire Management are due to Mrs. Hyde and to Mr. MacKenzie for making a wise selection from among so many fine competitors.

Those of older years in the community exercised their skill with the Coconut shy, the Hoopla Stand, or endeavored to make successful choice among the contents of the Grass Tub.

Early during the proceedings, the Dairy Stall was sold out. In the evening a pleasant time was had in timing the light fantastic toe with the melodies of Jim Gannon's fine orchestra. Mr. D. J. McGlashan was the fortunate winner of the prize of Community Silver offered as set by the Guild.

The ladies of St. Michael's Guild are to be congratulated on the preparation and service of a most excellent repast during the evening. The only regret of the management is that comparatively few were able to get away from work on the day selected, harvest being somewhat later than anticipated.

NEW DEVICE GIVES
TELEPHONE NUMBER

When Your Party Does Not Answer You Can Leave a Call For Him.
OAKLAND, Cal.—A device, whereby the telephone user may leave his number for the party called is the invention of Arthur Eschberg, 81, a bookkeeper of this city, and promises solution of a trying problem.

The device, a tape recording machine, is attached to an ordinary telephone and, utilizing the wires and electric current of the telephone lines, the caller, by means of a key, can perforate his number on a reel of tape at the other end. A miniature lamp on the key stand tells when the device is operating.

The inventor declares that the mechanism, which is operated by set of clock gears at the receiving end, could be used by the subscriber, or the telephone operator at the subscriber's request. He believes that it would save a great deal of time in business, assist the telephone company by obviating repeated calls, and in addition provide a welcome aid to the householder or shop owner who is forced to be absent at frequent intervals.

CHEMISTS SEE
HOMES AND STREETS
MADE OF GLASS

NEW YORK—Glass roads and glass streets in use in a world which could be warmed by a new sun if the existing sun should "wear out" were pictured at the annual meeting of the Society of Chemical Industry, which has just opened its sessions here.

Glass streets, according to A. E. Marshall of the Corning Glass Works of Corning, N. Y., are one of the possibilities which may result from new improvements in the methods of manufacture of glass. In a technical paper, Mr. Marshall outlined process for making harder and less brittle glass. It would also open up the way to its use for plumbing and furniture.

SPORT NOTES

PERCY WILLIAMS IS SCOTTISH CANADIAN

It has been taken for granted that Percy Williams, Olympic sprint champion, is a native of Canada. The Dominion claims him as her very own, but Canada must share with Scotland the honors, never before won by one man, earned by Williams at the Olympic Games. The Lord of Cakes paid tribute to a "gaid mon" when Olympic stars appeared at a track meet at Hampden Park in Glasgow, and "Pistol" writing of the visit in The Bulletin, points out that the latest human bullet was born in Andrie. The great sprinter left the Lanarkshire town for this country nearly 15 years ago, when he was four years of age. Others in the party were: J. Walters, Cliff Bricker, John Miles, W. Kibblewhite, son of the former A.A.A. champion, and Bobby Kerr.

JACK QUINN HAS DEVELOPED NEW DELIVERY

Old Jack Quinn has a brand new delivery this year and he is having fine success. Quinn is about 45, although he admits to only 43, and for many years he has been a spitball pitcher.

He used to anoint the ball liberally with saliva and grip, but he has stopped to catch him now for the ball is sticking and diving in a bewildering fashion. Quinn is working on still another new freak delivery, but his control of it is not good enough yet for him to use it.

Jack folds the first finger of his pitching hand back on the ball and grips it with the second and third fingers. The trouble is that the second finger is longer than the third and that in twirling with his control.

It would not surprise the Athletics a bit if old Jack cut a chunk off his second finger next winter, to make it the same length as his third finger, so he can control his new delivery. He is that kind of a fellow. Quinn believes if he can control his new delivery it will be very effective against left-handed hitters, for it breaks like a fadeaway from a left-handed batter.

BILLY BARTON TO RACE
IN GRAND NATIONAL AGAIN

NEW YORK—Billy Barton, great greyhound, owned by Howard Rice of Baltimore, is off for another shot at England's famous steeplechase, the Grand National, run at Aintree. Billy Barton, which finished second in the 1927 running of the Aintree classic, sailed aboard the Minerva today for England, where he will be trained for next year's Grand National for next March.

Spinal great French thoroughbred, which ran second in three match races against United States horses in 1924, is being returned to France, aboard the same vessel.

BATTLE AX IS SOLD TO AMERICAN

Still another great Canadian Pacer has drifted over the Border and has become a United States owned horse. Battle Ax, for the last few years, one of the sensations of Western Canada and also the Northern States, is the latest to find a new owner in the States. Jim Kealey, Montreal, recently sold his pacer to Paul Webster, St. Paul for the sum said to be in the neighborhood of $4500.

THE GREAT "FAIRWAY"
VINDICATED AT ST. LEGER

DONCASTER, England—(C. P. Cable)—Lord Derby's cult Fairway, Mol of the British public before the Derby was run last June and a great disappointment in that race, vindicated himself by easily winning the historic Doncaster St. Leger. Well handled by Lord Derby's veteran chief jockey, Weston, Fairway crossed the finish line a length ahead of the French horse, Jacques Wittout's Palais Royal, ridden by Alameda Major Courtauld's Cyclonic, with Bobby Jones up, was a length back in third place. Thirteen three year olds went the mile, six furlongs, and 122 yards of the St. Leger, which is the fifth and last classic race of the season—a century and a half old and worth $50,000 or more.

Constant Son and Parviz were withdrawn.

Fairway started at 7 to 4; Palais Royal 100 to 6 and Cyclonic at 160 to 15.

Lord Derby's colt, Son of Fairway by Constant Son, took back of the field from the start. Lord Derby broke in front with Fairway, Tourist and Flamingo.

Half way, Lord Derby took a good lead from Tourist, followed by Gang Warley, Ballad, Marcongrain, Cyclonic and Fairway, with the others trailing. Lord Derby led into the stretch, Cyclonic moving up to second place in front of Palais Royal, Tourist, Flamingo and Tourist.

Gradually, Cyclonic, Palais Royal and Fairway went clear of the remainder, and Fairway was slowly moved up to leadership before the finish was reached. Flamingo, only classic winner in the race, finished fourth and Tourist fifth. Fairway's time was three minutes and three seconds.

Fairway, champion two year old in last year, was the warm favorite in the Derby, when he ran unplaced to the finish. Fairway since June turned the Derby into a steeple, but the Leger is the only three year old race comparable to the Derby.

WORLD'S SERIES WAS INAUGURATED IN 1902

NEW YORK—The 1928 world's series will mark the 25th anniversary of the inter-league games of modern baseball.

Inaugurated in 1902 between the Pittsburgh club of the National League and the Boston Red Sox, the championship teams of the two major leagues since then have met annually up to the exception of 1914.

In that year the respective pennant winners were the New York Giants in the National League and the Boston Red Sox repeating in the American League. The late John T. Brush, then owner of the Giants, is said to have disapproved a meeting between the two league champions, but with other baseball officials agreed that an annual series offer joint league jurisdiction would help baseball.

The old national commission, which grew out of the war waged by the American league for recognition as a major circuit, then passed the necessary legislation to make the world's series an annual event and adopted rules to govern the games and provide for the distribution of the proceeds. This plan was suggested by Mr. Brush. When the Pirates and Red Sox met in 1902, the games were played under arrangements made solely by the competing clubs. The opposing managers were Fred Clarke, Pittsburgh, and Jimmy Collins, Boston. The latter was an outfielder and the latter a third baseman, ranked among the best players of their time and were among the leading hitters.

The Pirates captured three of the first four games. The champions of the new league turned about in the fifth games, however, defeated the Pirates by 11 to 2, the most decisive margin of the series, and then won the remaining three games, and the first world's championship, five games to three.

In the lineups of these two teams were outstanding stars of all time. The Pirates had at shortstop Hans Wagner who, during his long career gained recognition as one of the greatest players in history by his brilliant fielding, batting and base-running. He held the National league batting championship eight years and was the leading base stealer several seasons.

Around the diamond on the inner defense with Wagner were Kirby Bransfield at first base; Claude Ritchey at second and Tommy Leach at third. In the outfield with Manager Clarke were Clarence Deamon and Jimmy Sebring. The Pirate pitchers included Charles (Deacon) Phil Hogue, Sam Leever and Billy Kennedy, and the catchers were Eddie Phelps and H. Smith.

The Red Sox infield was composed of George Lachance, first base; Hobe Ferris, second; Fred Parent, shortstop and Jimmy Collins, third base. In the outfield were Pat Dougherty, Chick Stahl and John (Buck) Freeman. Pitchers included Cy Young, Sam Rice and Harry Sawyer, while the backstops were Les Cripps and Charlie Farrell.

If all these players the only one who is still active on the field in the major leagues is Bill Dineen, who has been an umpire in the American league for several years.

B.C. LIBERAL LEADER

VANCOUVER—As for Hon. J. D. MacLean, the former premier, the impression remains that he will be found a seat in the house and will continue to lead the Liberal party in British Columbia. On the day he handed out his cabinet, Premier Tomin took occasion to say a few kind and appreciative words about the former premier and expressed the hope that he would lead the opposition in the house. He said the legislature could ill afford to lose a man of Dr. MacLean's ability and experience. So it looks as though the return of the former Liberal premier to the house will be facilitated by the new government and the Liberal party.

THE SAYINGS AND DOINGS OF MANY PUBLIC MEN

Dorothy Dix: "I am not denying that motherhood is an arduous calling for any woman to follow. It is, it is full of anxiety, of hard work and unceasing sacrifice, but no other career is so full of interest and excitement or offers such rewards. What other occupation is there in the world so absorbingly fascinating as watching a little child's mind develop? What drama so humorous, so tender, so filled with surprise, as the daily life of a small boy?"

Training for leadership among young people was characterized by Rev. F. C. Ward-Whale as the greatest need of the day when speaking in St. Albans Cathedral on the subject "Toronto's Greatest Asset."

"Our true riches are in our growing boys and girls," the speaker declared. "It is the greatest asset of this City of Toronto. The strength of the Dominion of Canada is in its children. We are not doing our duty unless we make every effort we possibly can in the Church and outside the Church to give our children a knowledge of the Spirit of God."

The resume of the whole minister-harvester situation as given in an admirable speech by the Right Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, puts the matter in its correct proportions. As the Labor leader said:

"I want to say to you here, I want to say to the Canadian Clubs in Canada, that the people of Great Britain are profoundly grateful to you for the way in which you have met them in the experiment of bringing 8,500 miners to Canada to gather your harvest. We recognize perfectly well it was only a great desire on your part that enabled you and persuaded you to do what you have done."

"It is true that some 330 of these men are on their way back. We are all practical men, and we know that it is absolutely impossible to take 8,500 men from one end of the country to the other, on short notice, persuade them to come, tell them what they are to get here, bring them here, and then find that not a single one of them has been unfairly treated. But then grievances are reduced to 2 or 4 per cent. It is our duty to keep an eye on the more than 96 per cent. who have been successful."

Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, when asked to express his opinion on the situation created through the movement of British miners to the harvest fields of Western Canada, made the following statement:

"So long as transportation and promises of jobs are linked together, there will be misrepresentation, and the agents of shipping companies in the old country who get a commission on tickets sold do not always tell the truth. No person should be brought to Canada to take up farming after years. Many of them come here poorly and are prepared for a life of poverty entirely different from what they find."

Lord Lovat: "Our visit to Alberta has been in every way an inspiration. To come to Alberta, where success seems to belong to every settler whom we have met, or about whom we have heard, is to realize that here you have good land, a good country, the right type of settlers, and the right sort of management."

"Out of two hundred settlers with whom we came into direct contact, or about whom we heard from reason, able parties whom we met, 95 per cent. of them are undoubtedly going to succeed," he predicted. "And I am informed that 89 per cent. of the original families settled under the 3,000 families scheme are still on the land."

In these days of peace treaties, armament reduction conferences, and commerce of worldwide extent, I wonder of the present generation realizes the debt it owes to that English economist, humanitarian and statesman, Richard Cobden."

Almost a century ago, in 1842, he wrote:

"In the close course of every king, or president, or prince, should be a man of affairs whose life is devoted to commerce and labor, and the needs and requirements of peace. His work is of far greater moment than that of non-war. Battleships ever form a suggestion for their use, and as long as we have armies, men will kill, fight and destroy. Soldiers who do not want to fight are not of the earth. Prepare for war and war will come. When government gives to the arts of peace the same thought and attention that it gives to the arts of war, we will have peace on earth and good will among men. But so long as the soldier takes precedence of the business man in the political courts of the world, famine, death, disease and want will crouch at our doors. Commerce is production, war is destruction. The law of production and distribution must and will be made a science; and then and not until then will happiness come to mankind and this earth serve as a pattern for the paradise of another life, instead of being a pandemonium."

How subsequent years have abundantly proved the wisdom of these words. Strange indeed is the fact that several decades have passed since they were first uttered, yet only in recent times has the man of affairs whose life is devoted to commerce and labor begun to take precedence over military man—Christian Science Monitor.

The majority of British harvesters who have come to Canada at the call of W. C. Osmond, special observer for the British government, who has been in the Dominion studying conditions surrounding the British harvest hands. Mr. Osmond attended a conference of colonization, immigration and employment officials at Regina.

"There is no question that harvesting was hard work for these men at first," Mr. Osmond said. "But I think that after they got their muscles hardened and feel the click of money in their pockets, most of them will want to stay in Canada."

Referring to the statements that the men would be stranded when winter arrived, Mr. Osmond declared that winter work has been secured by the Britishers in Saskatchewan and that there would be no trouble in finding work for them in Manitoba.

Sir Robert Horne: "I am not here, in nor do I desire high prices; that winter work has been secured by the Britishers in Saskatchewan and that there would be no trouble in finding work for them in Manitoba."

Walter Lipmann: "The transition from revolution to electrification is the most radical change which can take place in the political habits of a people, and broadly speaking, the abolition of civil war depends upon making this transition."

Joseph Fort Newton: "We must know no Rassen race, no Teutonic race, no Slavic race, but only the human race, of which it is actually a symbol and prophetically a symphony."

Owen D. Young: "What we need to deal with are not the limits to which men may go without physical exhaustion, but the limits within which they may work with zest and spirit and pride of accomplishment."

Miss Elizabeth Corbett: "In a country of over 100,000,000 people, no one is big enough or powerful enough or rich enough to skin all the cats."

John Timothy Stone: "A stone rafter's estimate of character is worth more than that of a fellow officer in a church. 'Practical Christianity' shows itself in the humdrum and distraction of an office or saleroom better than when on parade."

A. Lawrence Lowell: "The man who never lets his clearness of vision fade is safe himself, and though he knows it not, is for others a refuge and beacon light."

Ernest M. Hopkins: "The progress of democracy is more dependent upon wise followers than upon superior leadership."

Joseph Fort Newton: "If we are to abolish war it must be by mobilizing the moral intelligence and practical capacity of the race. It must begin with the recognition of the fact that the good of mankind as a whole does actually exist, and that no race, no nation, can be happy and secure alone."

Cyrenus Cole: "Men sometimes enter at moral issues, but women seldom do. The mothers of men know that the moral issues count most."

Henry Ford: "If we compare what we can and shall have in the future we have hardly scratched the surface of prosperity."

P. D. Shovan: "In 50 years' time the majority of the people in the world will speak English."

I Saw Last Week

CHARLIE CHASE claiming that he had done half a day's work before 5 a.m. Monday; some of these birds get away with an awful short day. BILL SAUNDERS tipping off to D. N. Gardner a new mail order proposition. JIM MORAN protesting that he does not use an electric tape-measure, but as he stands measuring the house of A. RELLINGER explaining what a good golfer he is, and forcing a poor editor to demand PRESIDENT RIDLEY receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a new member for the Curling Club. DR. KOCHT busy as a tailor fixing up his new premises, the Hotel Strathmore. BILL THIRTY viewing the beautiful arches in the western sky, and predicting an unusually fine old time Alberta autumn. MAYOR SHIRMPON giving much thought to remodeling the Public Works Department, with the objective of getting more service for the same financial outlay. HECTOR McRENNER JR. forsaking the sugar and tea counter for the "3 Rs" under Principal Crowther, deciding not to be, in the meantime, a prize merchant. D. A. PERRY looking for a lady friend in a Chicago Hotel, and the lady looking for D. A. without success, although both stopping in the same building. It was a good thing that D. A. has a reason for not being a prize merchant. It was in Uncle Sam's dry land FATHER MACDAM declaring that the Colt that had been presented to be called at the big Toronto night club by win the next Alberta Derby. T. M. WEARS waiting for those who are entitled to vote at the next municipal election, to make application to be put on the list, if they are not now property owners. You must ask or you will be found wanting on polling day. The conditions are easy, but it is up to you to make the request. Don't blame the Mayor and Councilors or Secretary if you are not able to vote. D. M. LINDIE being offered by Nils White a very lucrative situation, together with living quarters over Wille's Garage, which D. M. was giving him his most arduous quarters. FRED ANDERSON up over breakfast on Monday morning, making preparation to get another separator at work. PRINCIPAL CROWTHER and W. N. Watson discussing the new exhibition at Calgary on Saturday next with MacKenzie a witness to the statements. JACK CRELLEN giving Recall Red a demonstration of what an athlete should not do, if it wishes to avoid physical injury. RAY DOUGLAS giving the boys a hair-raising reminiscence regarding the time he spent seven hours on a marble slab in a Seattle morgue, and the game believed him—BILL MATHES and CONSTABLE HARRISON holding a consultation regarding how to handle a vicious dog. Bill claims that the most vicious animal will subside if you look at it square in the eye without winking, but the heck of it is to keep from winking says Mathes.

SEWS 14,572 PIECES IN PATCHWORK QUILT — — — FOMEROY, Ohio—Like Joseph's coat of many colors, Mrs. J. M. Deal, 66 years old, has a quilt of many pieces.

When Mrs. Deal was a girl of 15 a prize was offered by the county fair officials to the woman who could make a quilt containing the most pieces. The young girl undertook to compete for the prize. It was said that a neighbor girl won the prize with a quilt of more than 7,000 pieces in it—but at the time Mrs. Deal's quilt had not been finished. Her quilt, which now contains 14,572 pieces, required 20 spoons of thread.

(then plain Sam Chapman) were fellow-workers in the political contests of those days.

W. Swanson, of Delton, Minnesota, who is interested in land in the Crow tertained Friday evening at an extraordinary jolly party of bridge. Four ments were served by the hostess after which music and interesting conversation made the guests loathe to depart.

ton and Mrs. Moore; Mrs. Shrimpton and Mr. W. N. Watson.

Coming off the train Saturday last was a new and interesting citizen, all robbed in white, and carefully and lovingly escorted by his father, mother and other attendants. The new townsman is Robert M. Bailey. It was a beautiful sunny afternoon for anyone to make their debut in our town, and we hope for the young man a pathway in life as bright as was the golden sunshine of the day of his arrival in

visitor during the past week.

guests, Mr. and Mrs. Himmelman and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt

Noxious Weeds Notice

Noxious weeds from mature plants are spread by the wind. Hand pull and burn all such plants. Burn any ripe blossoms of Sow Thistle and Canadian Thistle that you may find.

Require all threshing machines, combines, wagons and racks used at the time of threshing, to be thoroughly cleaned before moving on to your farm or leaving it.

Gather and burn all weed seeds left on the ground after threshing.
See that your summerfallow goes into the winter "black".

Attend to this as much of the good work that has been done in weed control and eradication will be undone.

Your co-operation in the campaign for a "weed free province" is solicited.

Register all threshing machines and combines with the Department of Agriculture.

Royal Bank staff, will regret to learn of his transfer to the Lacombe branch.

WOMAN WAKENS AFTER SLEEPING FOR 18 YEARS

JOHANNESBURG—A woman has awakened after sleeping in the sanatorium here for 18 years. Her lover was killed in 1910, when she was 20 years old, and the shock caused a cataleptic fit, followed by a deep sleep, which resisted all efforts to awaken her.

She has been fed by means of a tube every two hours during the entire period, but she declined until she became a skeleton.

The awakening was gradual, but the woman is still so shy of human beings that she hides her head when anyone approaches. She has spoken only a few words.

The woman who has slept for 18 years awoke to a world transformed.
When she went to sleep the airplane was still in its infancy, and the wireless was little more than a dream.
The threat of a world war was only a distant nightmare in 1910.

The sleeper will find a world which is only now beginning to recover from the greatest conflict in history, a world in which wireless receiving sets are a normal part of the furniture of every isolated farm on the veldt, a world in which the airplane has become a normal means of transport.

BAINTREE U.F.W.A.

On Wednesday, August 29, the ladies of the Baintree U.F.W.A. met at the Frank Logan home, with Miss Emily Lambourne as hostess. In spite of the busy season, during being in full swing, there was a good attendance. There were three visitors, Mrs. H. Godfrey, Mrs. V. C. Chapman and Mrs. Quinn. After the usual business routine, there being no correspondence, the matter of the ice cream social was discussed, and the advisability of having it at the present time. A vote was taken, and the result against, rather than for holding it now. It was moved by Mrs. W. A. Lyons, and seconded by Miss Lambourne, that the social be postponed for the present. The motion was adopted. Mrs. F. Baintree, in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. P. J. Lyons, took the minutes, and recorded all business for the afternoon. A pleasant social hour was enjoyed by the ladies, and Miss Lambourne served a delicious buffet lunch. The next meeting will be with Mrs. P. J. Lyons. The date is uncertain, owing to threatening and general busy season, but members will be notified in good time.

At the regular meeting of the Rosebud United Church Ladies Aid, about fourteen members and visitors were present at the home of Mrs. J. Sangster, with Mrs. Claude Sangster as hostess. The usual spendid lunch was served after the business was attended to. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harold Summers, October 4th.

Mrs. Claude Sangster and son left Monday for San Francisco, Cal., where she will spend several months visiting her parents.

On the curve at the Imperial Oil Works on the No. 1 highway east (better known as the dirt road) a loaded car with Hon. George Spence on board, was driven in perfect safety at a speed in excess of 35 miles an hour. Following this successful test, and by way of comparison, the auto was then taken to a portion of the gumbo road below the highway. It was with difficulty that a speed of 10 miles could be obtained against the heavy, clogging gumbo, while the car slipped and skittered about in the sticky, greasy mass.

Gratly Pleased

"The problem of how to treat the gumbo soil has been a problem ever since highways were started in Saskatchewan," stated the minister. "We are greatly pleased at the result of the tests of the new methods of treating the roads by an asphaltic oil beneath the gravel. We are satisfied that it will prove a solution of the problem that has hindered highway construction in our province," concluded the minister.

Eight miles of the road from Regina eastwards to Pilot Butte are now being treated by the new system and a stretch of seventeen miles westward from Regina to Pense on the Regina-Moose Jaw highway is also contracted for. Four miles of the eastward road is now open for traffic.

Cost $5,000 Per Mile
Cost of the new treatment have not yet been definitely determined. It is expected to cost about $3,000 per mile with reasonable yearly maintenance charges, but a permanent waterproof roadway now seems possible. The department of Highways has a 7,000-mile provincial highway problem on its hands so that there is a natural elation at the success of the test carried out.

Deputy Minister of Highways, H. S. Carpenter, will deliver a technical lecture before the forthcoming Good Roads Convention in which he will tell the story of the treatment of gumbo roads in Saskatchewan.

Gravel Disapproved

Previously no matter how hard the dirt roads became in dry weather, the first approach of rain made them greasy, and any gravel surface slowly disappeared as if through quicksand. Hon. S. J. Lett tells a story of the early days of Regina when the first bit of road was laid in the vicinity of S. Railway street and Scarth. The gravel surface all disappeared through the rain. A couple of years later when another effort was made to make a road an American farmer-immigrant stood watching the plough as it went through eight inches of gumbo and turned up layers of gravel.

"I'm going back to the States, you can't grow wheat on eight inches of soil," he said.

Gravel surfacing has been discovered by provincial government engineers, as far beneath as seven feet below the surface.

Asphaltic Base Oil

The new system which had been tried out in Minnesota, and North Dakota, calls for the gravel to be spread in a windrow on either side of the road. Heavy asphaltic base oil to the quantity of a third of a gallon to a square yard is spread over the dry gumbo surface, forming a prime coat. After it has sunk in, a second coat is laid on a few hours later, and the gravel spread evenly on with a blade grader. The road is immediately opened for traffic after the gravel is spread, as experiments show that traffic help to consolidate the oil gravel.

The theory, now sustained by the tests carried out, is that the asphalt oil forms a waterproof coat over the hard dry gumbo, making it impossible for rain to penetrate. The gumbo problem has been a baffling one, and the rain was welcomed by the department officials as an opportunity to give a test to the road work under construction. The result of the tests assures that further contracts will be let for oil road in the province.

TWO CROPS IN ONE SEASON IS POSSIBLE

NEW YORK—Having gassed lilacs into blooming before their time Dr. F. R. Denny, research director of the Boles Thompson Institute at Yonkers, believes it possible to produce two crops a season.

Dr. Denny told members of the society of chemical industry that chemical treatment of certain plants during the annual dormancy or "rest period" had almost the effect of an alarm clock upon a sleeping person. The plants, he said, were thus awakened almost immediately to vigorous growth during the several months nature had set aside as times for their complete relaxation.

By placing lilacs in a room filled with chemical vapors for 24 to 48 hours he had caused them to bloom before Christmas, he said, some thing they had never done before in this part of the country. He expected this season to produce a second crop of Irish potatoes from the seed potatoes of the first crop.

Travelling School's Promising Trio

More good than a row of medals pinned on them is the value three young lads from the backwoods of Ontario will derive from a wonderful week spent in Toronto. These three boys are: Rene Thibault, aged 14 years, French-Canadian from Ramsay; George Kingston, a little 15-year-old Indian of Wye, and John Paul Faquette, French-Canadian of Eber, aged 16 years. They are ardent pupils of the Canadian Pacific Railway travelling school car, and are up betimes each morning to attend the school on wheels the week it spends in each month on a siding in their section of the North. Their teacher, Mr. McKelvie, these three boys to spend a week in Toronto and the Canadian National Exhibition, as guests of Premier Ferguson, the boys of the entrance class of the Normal School, and the Canadian Pacific Railway. Bewildered by all he saw young George Kingston scarcely spoke, although he is learning English rapidly, and even the smallest thing he saw brought a shy smile. He had never been upstairs until he boarded the train that brought him to the city, the largest body of people he had seen together at one time was 30. He was intensely interested in mirrors and elevators and his pockets were stuffed with a collection of mechanical toys. He has not yet mustered up enough courage to talk on a telephone and when he saw a parade of cadets in their bright red tunics it was difficult to hold him back. The two older boys were most interested in aeroplanes and the animals they saw at the exhibition.

During the months from May to November there is a "Terror" that walks by night; a whisper of whose presence makes parents tremble. This dreaded thing is Acute Poliomyelitis—Infantile Paralysis.

Infantile Paralysis is a germ disease. It occurs most often in the months May to November, and most often among children, though adults are not by any means immune. The disease affects all races, all classes, and all parts of the world, but is more prevalent in colder climates. The robust child falls a victim as readily as the delicate child.

During an epidemic, rural communities suffer more than cities.

Infantile Paralysis in its beginning resembles many other contagious diseases. A child that has been perfectly well will become restless and drowsy. He is irritable, and does not want to be moved. There may be vomiting or diarrhea, but constipation is the rule. There may be head ache, pains in the muscles, or a convulsion. The child is feverish. That may be all that appears, and yet within one or two days, the child may be unable to move arms or legs.

If a child appears to have a fever, vomiting and marked restlessness, put him to bed, and call a doctor promptly. No matter how mild the sickness may seem, get a doctor. While waiting, give a dose of Castor Oil. Keep all children away from crowds, from movies, theatres, dances, etc. Keep them from homes where there is sickness. Keep the house clean, using plenty of soap and water. Burn rubbish. Garbage buckets should be tightly covered, and cleaned daily. Keep out flies and other insects. Let in fresh air and sunlight—they are Nature's killer of germs.

BACK ON JOB AFTER

SERIOUS OPERATION

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—"Sassy Sue" is back on the job of laying an egg a day after undergoing a major operation here.

The prize hen, owned by Herbert M. Burns, for a year has been his pride because of the blue ribbon and prize money she has won with her efficiency in egg laying. The hen apparently believed that an egg a day would keep the acre away.

But one day recently, Sue failed to lay her usual egg. The same day affliction continued for a week and she saw dependent. A poultry specialist decided an immediate operation was necessary.

A. G. Cannon, poultry expert at West Tennessee State Teachers' College, was selected to lay bare the hen's life of the hen.

Eight fully developed eggs, four of which had hard shells, were removed from the hen's body. One of the hard-shelled eggs had cracked and ruined the trouble.
